NOMA Scholarships for 2010/2011 intake

Applications are invited for admission and scholarships for MSc in Mathematical Modelling at the University of Dar-es-salaam for the academic year commencing August 2010. The Southern African Masters programme in mathematical modelling is a programme of co-operation between universities in Southern Africa and Norway supported by the Norad's programme for masters studies (NOMA).

In 2010, ten (10) NOMA scholarships for MSc (mathematical modelling) studies at the University of Dar-es-Salaam are available for two students from each of the eligible countries (Malawi, Tanzania, Uganda, Mozambique and Zambia). The scholarships cover tuition fees, one air return ticket, research allowance and monthly living allowance of 300 USD per month in Dar-es-Salaam for 24 months. Privately sponsored students are also encouraged to apply.

Admission/Scholarship forms MSc (Mathematical Modelling) can be downloaded from:

http://www.maths.udsm.ac.tz/noma/ or http://postgraduate.udsm.ac.tz/index.php.

Interested students from eligible countries should apply as soon as possible by completing the application forms for admission to the University of Dar es Salaam. There are no application forms for scholarships but you have to first apply for admission into UDSM degree programme. Once you are admitted you will compete with other successful applicants from your country. If it happens that the country has only two successful candidates, then both will qualify for the scholarships.

Age limit for the scholarship is 30years. The forms should be received not later than 31 MAY 2010 by the Head Mathematics Department , University of Dar-es-salaam, P. O. Box 35062. Dar-es-salaam, Tanzania.
